Did you know it's coming closer
Even though it's far away
Did you know it's nothing to look forward to
Even though it comes like a surprise

Look at the roads like veins
And the cities as blood clots

['ah' interlude]

Did you know it's time to start over
'Cause there's almost nothing left to waste away
Did you know that you stick to the ground
And if space falls down you'd be blown away

Look at the roads like veins
And the cities as blood clots
Look at the roads like veins
And the cities as blood clots

['ah' ending]
