I hear the sound of fear
Creeping slowly getting near
I can feel it behind me
I see the end is near
I am tired I am beat
It is sneaking inside me

Your blue eyes are the only sign of life around me
Just like a stream and a palm in this desert that surrounds me

I see an angel through the mist
Blink my eyes it still exists
It is coming to take me
I grab my soul with all my hands
Wont let go while I still can
It is not gonna break me

Your blue eyes are the only reason I treasure my life
I will survive just to see them one more time
