"Good Night"

Feels like a lifetime ago, when I would always home,
You would tell it in my arms.
Seems that so much has changed, but it all hurts the same,
And I don't know how to ease it.

And I know that you are right, cause someday I see you, I can, again.

When I call your name at night,
All I really wanna see is the look that's in your eyes.
And when I scream your name at night
All I wanna do is look into your eyes and say goodnight, Goodnight.

I wish I would have known which way our lies would grow
To from my heart was wasted
But the damage has been done and now I'm the only one,
Let's leave the try and make it.

And I know that you will wait, cause someday I'll see you again.

When I call your name at night,
All I really wanna see is the look that's in your eyes.
And when I scream your name at night
All I wanna do is look into your eyes and say goodnight, Goodnight.

When we drift apart?
I know it's been so long, I still care for you
And with you, that's where I belong,
I belong with you.

The beauty that I see when I hold you tight
With the bodies in the mere, please stay one more night.
One last night.

I wish I would have known which way our lies would
grow
Before my heart was wasted.

When I call your name at night,
All I really wanna see is the look that's in your eyes.
And when I scream your name at night
All I wanna do is look into your eyes and say goodnight, Goodnight.
