Late at night I leave my house,
Drive down my street and watch you and see,
Nothing but the same old shit again.
But everybody's talking about you.
They're wondering if the (something)
But I don't want to see them again.

(something)
And I don't really see a difference,
When you take your life and waste it.

Whoa, I just want to party with my friends.
Tonight there's no consequences.
Keep blasting no regrets,
I'll never kiss you and not forget.

(something) and no one cares.
What they're doing where they've been.
Because I don't give a shit
Everybody's got something,
That they want to say about themselves.
It's something bad I'll turn it up.

(something)
And I don't really see a difference,
When you take your life and waste it.

Whoa, I just want to party with my friends,
Tonight there's no consequences.
Keep blasting no regrets,
I'll never kiss you and not forget.

Whoa, keep blasting no regrets,
I'll never kiss you and not forget.
