"A Cup of Joe"

Joe has been offered a gig in the city
When morning's just woken and needing some coffee
Needing some coffee

Sun rises right on schedule and according this patron
With just one look at the paper, he said, "It'll last all weekend,
It will last all weekend"

She said, "Hey Joe, questions swimming in a drink How come no one knows, these things could be these things"

I want a cup of thee; I want to feel I'm full
I want a cup of you; I want a cup of Joe Feeling half-empty, I want to feel I'm full
I want a cup of you; I want a cup of Joe

It's not like he teased her, but try telling it to her brain
Life is but a seesaw and it might not feel the same
Might not feel the same

I want a cup of thee; I want to feel I'm full
I want a cup of you; I want a cup of Joe
I want a cup of thee; I want to feel I'm full
I want a cup of you; I want a cup of Joe

She said, "Hi Joe," He's sticking in her heart
How come no one said this could be this hard?
How come?

I want a cup of thee; I want to feel I'm full
I want a cup of you; I want a cup of Joe
I'm feeling half empty; I want to feel I'm full
I want a cup of you; I want a cup of Joe
