She said I think
I'm going to be alright
I don't know why
But I am going to try
And wait it through
I said to her that
You don't look that great.
What's your take?
What's it going to take
For you to see the way
And find your place?
Don't fall away from grace
Let it go, let it fly
Let it free you up inside
You know the Truth will
If you let it take you high
Let it go, let it fly
Let it free you up inside
Nothing can take you or
Break you
Let it go
Everybody feels alone sometimes,
Hurts sometimes
True, it's not a secret,
But I know that we are
Going to make it through
There is a Freedom that
I can't explain, can't contain
All the pain you carry
Will be wiped away and you will see
A new and brighter day
Just close your eyes and make it right
It's coming over you
Don't let the sun rise up before
This thing is made brand new
