

The Less "Loud Machines"

I'm surrounded by
The sound of loud machines
Everyone's got their problems
And no one knows how to solve them
My chances here are Few and far between
Living up to nothing
I always dreamed of something
To take my weakness
Feel my heartbeat
Wake my soul and
Fill this space up
I've been waiting and
I hear you calling
So clear this up for me
Make me feel. Make me real.
Without you, I can't see
Will you be my eyes
And will you carry me?
Oh I need to hear you
Speak to me because
I just need some clarity
I'm surrounded by
The sound of loud machines
Coming on up beside me
With no place safe to hide me, but
You have been so beautiful to me
It's you that keeps me going
It makes it better knowing
You take my weakness
Feel my heartbeat
I've been waiting and
I hear you calling
I'm out of my head,
But you say it's fine
I'm out of this world,
I left it behind
I don't have to run. I don't have to cry
I'm hanging on your every word
And I hear you calling
