

The Lives Of Famous Men "Business As A Performance Art"

Visit "Business As A Performance Art" on MotoLyrics.com

Ballroom poise. the girls are dressing their intent to get a taste for keeping pace. the speaker lifts his glass. to dearest friends that will not last. they drink the pearls. theres an etiquette to always faking it with the straightest of faces. its all about the way you present yourself. novelty: gleaming lipstick, chain and gag. show your teeth if you can bite it back. skin grafts of all your mistresses. its such an exhibition. youre in when youre invited back. ill stay at home (and cut at my own throat)

Visit The Lives Of Famous Men page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.