(Your gonna be okay kid, your gonna be...okay.)

So it's been one more year.
I can't believe it passed by.
I'm just I have a best friend to pass the time.

You age like a mother.
So be grateful for that.
(I don't know what's said here)

You've got your friends.
You've got your band.
Chris from teen people's got your back.
You've got me,
I'll be around.

Don't get too excited about that.
(What is this crazy rock and roll music anyway?)

Happy birthday little Meg.
You've got so much on your mind,
I hope that you can forget it.
Let's dress like cats for your birthday.

Happy birthday little Meg.
You've got so much on your mind,
I hope that you can forget it.
Let's dress like cats for your birthday.

So your manager is weird.
He keeps taking pictures with his cat.
I'm glad we are in such good hands.

I wish I could find a boy.
Maybe I'll search Abercrombie Fitch.
Ask him to get in a box and tie him up for you.
Do you think he'd wear a bow?

What if I paid him fifty bucks?

Do you think I could feed you cake,
And find you a pie?

Happy birthday little Meg.
You've got so much on your mind,
I hope that you can forget it.
Let's dress like cats for your birthday.

Happy birthday little Meg.
You've got so much on your mind,
I hope that you can forget it.
Tomorrow I'll dress like Rachel Robins.
