I left my life somewhere
When I saw you there
I breathe a different air
And now there's something new beginning
No more doubts or fear
When I feel you're near
Shift a little tear
Into the power of an ocean

Sweep away my past
Love me till the end
Take me where the humans
With their dirty hands
Can't reach us
Rip off all my clothes
Made of wasted hopes
Purify my skin
With saint saliva and superpowers

Soul fly away
Let it fly away - let it fly away
Soul fly away
I need your fire
I need your fire
I need your fire

I left my life somewhere
When I saw you there
I breathe a different air
And now there's something new beginning
Rip off all my clothes
Made of wasted hopes
Purify my skin
With saint saliva and superpowers
