As princess of today I read too many fairytales of how I thought life would be
And now the years have gone I realized too many things that you call reality

I am so glad I am home by the early morning breeze
I am so glad that I have all my darling friends

I wouldn't be what I am today
I wouldn't be here now
If you weren't there, If you weren't there
If you weren't there to stand by my side
I wouldn't be what I am today
I wouldn't be here now,
If you weren't there If you
weren't there,
If you weren't there to stand by my side

As long as I'm ½ alive
I owe you with my gratitude cause you taught me how to see the value of my life There's no one else I'd rather be from this moment I'll be free

Bridge

I am so glad I am home by the rainbow and the sea
I am so glad that I have all my darling friends
