Looking back at history you're not different than the rest If you think your life's a misery you better stand the test You think you're in control of all the good things you possess but you're technical and cold and you look just like a mess

You see the picture you're having fun but the adventure just has begun Nothing is new under the sun

Nothing is new
under the sun
Nothing is new
under the sun
under the sun

The pattern is repeated in the common things we find inventions have been made but we're so limited in our minds We think we have expanded but DNA has got the plan We find the right solution the day we understand

You see the picture
well, I turned it on and the adventure just has begun Nothing is new under the sun

Chorus
