Slow down
Can't you see you're moving too fast?
I believe you're headed down
Too high
You're gonna crash

So late and it's been such a long time
Through extremes and sinking too low
To satisfy your senses only
Going surely against the flow

Let the Pilot Of Your Soul guide you
When You're broken and there's no where to turn
There's always one more try
Bear the fight

Hold On
Even though you've only a thread
I believe there's hope for you listen
You're better off alive
... oh yeah yeah yeah

So read between the lines
Is it clearer?
Do you climb the walls and hope for the truth?
The closing in is just an illusion
Does the mirror claim that it's you?

Let the Pilot Of Your Soul guide you
When you're broken and there's no where to turn
There's always one more try
Bear the fight
You can bear it
Always one more try
