You kept me thinking whilst the time kept 'on ticking
But I learnt a way to make it stray away
When there's no connection
And you lose all direction who's gonna help you?
Find a way
Time waits for no one who am I
I know I'm someone who is right
I've got my reasons for not showing regrets
'cos fate has a role that must be played someday
All these things are way back in the past
And you can't see to give me one more chance
So I'm going to fight you all the way
Time will wait for no one now I've found
I wanna hear you say it... scream it out
When I'm alone here and I feel I can't take it
Then don't try to ever bring me down again, oh no!
'cos all my sins are left back in the past
And you won't ever give me back a chance
So I'm gonna fight you my own way
Time waits for no one
Now I've found
I wanna hear you say it... scream it out
Time waits for no one
Who am I?
I know I'm someone
Time is right.
