(Mighty Mighty Bosstoens)

I like noise that's why I'm livin' where I am I look like the noise and confusion of a traffic jam
I like the sound of a jet as it's shakin' my dwellin'
I like ragin' rampagin' and screamin' and yellin' sound of a fire engine headed for a fire emotions so high they can't get any higher goin' out of control i an outta hand crowd I like noise and it's gotta be loud.

awfully quiet on the streets yesterday people on the streets had little to say I walked the streets and barely heard a sound
It was awfully quiet on the streets downtown (chorus)

sometimes quiet's okay, sometimes quiet's alright given the choice, I like noise, morning, noon, and night awfully quiet on the trains last night people on the trains kept the conversation light I rode the trains and barely heard a word quietest train I ever heard (chorus)

It was awfully quiet and I needed some noise
I got on the phone called up the boys I was jonesing so bad, I could barely hack it they came to the house and picked up the racket they turned my place on its ear the boy's began to riot It felt so good to hear on a day that was so quiet I screamed and cheered them on and helped out where I could And when they all were gone
I was feeling good
