It's so hard to face That in this day and age Somebody's race Could trigger somebody's rage And somebody's preference Can drive some total stranger to make somebody, somehow feel the wrath of their anger Why were we put here? What for? we're unsure We sure weren't put here to hate Be racist, be sexist Be bigots, be sure We won't stand for your hate Why so cut and dry A simple concept missed Give tolerance a try This confusion still exists ignorant mongers No area's gray Couldn't be any wronger in this age and day Why were we put here? What for? we're unsure We sure weren't put here to hate Be racist, be sexist Be bigots, be sure We won't stand for your hate Now how far have we come? How come there still are come Who won't let come March to the beat of a different drum To face it, it's so hard you must be on your guard It's not okay And you're not free to be a different way Let's try to erase it, it's time that we face it If we don't, then who will? shame on us Let's try to erase it, it's time that we face it Let's face it, the time is upon us
