you know i've been drinking
my senses are leaving
enhance my dreaming
and my feelings for you

we're young to this city
so we gotta do everything
not to let it down

its up to me and you
to do all the things our parents taught us
so well not to

were young and alone
so lets do everything
ignore the telephone
its not for you

constantly
it's so hard to breathe.
i can hardly see.
sense of smell's left me.
and whats the point to hear unless it's her voice saying we can disappear.
what in the hell did she do to me.
i'll always want to sleep
if she's the one i'll see
