i found out.
was it everything you hoped for?
out with the old
and in comes the new.
better make it two.
oh how i hope
that you remember
the words i said
just before i walked
out the door

cold weather for
a cold person
i hope you freeze, and even though your nerves
will become numb
you'll still feel me leave

the only time i'm fine
is when i'm staring
in the bright lights
singing songs about how you hurt me this time

the only thing i have left in this life is the ability to make people cry so i'll abuse this power tonight i'll begin with you and end with me

i found out.
was it everything you hoped for?
out with the old
and in comes the new.
better make it two.
i know you start
feeling empty
unless you're
pleasing someone who
doesn't care for you
