There is a giant that's asleep inside us all.
You got to wake it up if you ever want to hear the vict'ry
call
And have it all. So lift your glass and have it all.
So lift your glass and have it all.
So lift your glass and have it all.
Come on hear the vict'ry call.

There is a thief who wants to make your dreams come true.
And when you're fast asleep, he'll come around and steal them all from you.
He'll take it all. In your American crystal ball.
In your American crystal ball.
In your American crystal ball.
He'll come around and take it all.

We're simply starved for an excuse to go crazy.
We're looking so hard for a chance to scare the doubt.
So, we'll create a diversion. We'll give 'em something to shout about.
So, raise your voice and scare the doubt,
So, raise your voice and scare the doubt.
We'll give 'em something to shout about.
