Half my heart's enchanted and amused the other half is dislocated distressed & confused half my heart just needs you night and day the other half just needs to know you're far away and how many times are you gonna make me cry ?
and how many times are you gonna say goodbye ?

half my heart is a bird so high she flies and sings the other half is a scorpion crawls in the dirt, stings half my heart's been held in love so true the other half has been abandoned misled and abused and how many times are you gonna make me cry ?
and how many times are you gonna say goodbye ?

what else can you take from me ? I don't even care half my heart beats inside of me the other half's not there
