It feels like a lover
I wont see in the morning
So I keep my eyes open through the night
I take these things for more than what they're worth
I take each kiss for more than what it's meant to be Call me a hopeless romantic, call me just being pathetic
I am what I feel and tonight I'm not that much

The new is in, the new is in, I'm feeling better already I've shed my skin, I've shed my skin, my head is starting to steady

I'm sorry I wont be reachable for days
I'm cutting myself off
Please leave me be, in my misery
I'm making amends with my conscience
So come next year I won't be reachable for days Because I'm taking time to let the story write it's page
I'm not convinced that there will be no other way

The new is in, the new is in, I'm feeling better already I've shed my skin, I've shed my skin, my head is
starting to steady

Break apart the boy I used to be
And build the man that I've become
I am a saint in sinner's clothing
Watch me save the world
I am a saint in sinner's skin
Now let the healing begin Let the healing begin, let the healing begin, let the healing begin

The new is in, the new is in, I'm feeling better already I've shed my skin, I've shed my skin, my head is
starting to steady

I can look myself in the eye now
I can feel some magic happening
I can breath on my own now
I can feel my body sinking in Sinking in, sinking in, sinking in

The new is in, the new is in, I'm feeling better already I've shed my skin, I've shed my skin, my head is
starting to steady

The new is in, the new is in, I'm feeling better already I've shed my skin, I've shed my skin, my head is
starting to steady
