So lets sing the executioner song
Why cant we all just get along
In spite of all our differences
Its starts a laugh
A warm heartfelt embrace
Now all we need is love
To make this something great (to make this something great)

Everybody's just somebody watching the show
Everybody feel your body losing control
Lets let our hearts speak to our minds
Lets let our minds speak to our souls

Whoa
Do you know we are.....
Do you know that we all wish upon the same stars
For the same things
Heart in heart
Our hands they all fit
This is the world as we know it

Lets stop the pointless fighting
And lets start living and loving
Lets stop the pointless fighting
And lets start living and loving
And if they cut out our tongues
We'll still sing loud
We will be strong, we will be heard
Simply cut off our tongues
We'll sing it louder than before

Everybody's just somebody watching the show
Everybody feel your body losing control
Lets let our hearts speak to our minds
Lets let our minds speak to our souls

Whoa
Do you know we are.....
Do you know that we all wish upon the same stars
For the same things

Heart in heart
Our hands they all fit
This is the world as we know it

Everybody's just somebody watching the show
Everybody feel your body losing control
Lets let our hearts speak to our minds
Lets let our minds speak to our souls

Whoa whoa

Whoa
Do you know we are.....
Do you know that we all wish upon the same stars
For the same things
Heart in heart
Our hands they all fit
This is the world as we know it

This is the world as we know it

Heart in heart
Our hands they all fit
This is the world as we know it
