let's celebrate the love we've made my heart came out and put on a face and walked into the world and she walked out on her own let's celebrate the ones we love and all the tales that i dreamed of and you fell into my arms and i held you tight so that we could dance the oceans would be still we would swim into the world throw your arms out wide i love you

let's celebrate the things we've done look at what we have become as we walked out on our own it's you and me and we're all alone it's you and me and we're on our own and if i shut my eyes you're right here by my side throw your arms out wide
i love you.
