I don't even try to fight it
Yes I'm too mature to hide it
All that I feel I cant even explain
But I know not a day goes
I don't go, Imma wait for you
But you keep me on an island
At best you're distant and at worst you're hiding
Whats on your mind, baby tell me the time
I try to break though your guard
But its so damn hard child
My heart beats every beat for you
I hurt when you're hurt
I'm blue when you're blue
And I'm fighting but even the greatest of walls
withstand
My love is strong
But its weary from the climb
Why can't you help me
Can't you help me please break down your walls
Can you please
Cause I'm holding on
But my spirit gets weary
Oh, I know what it is
It ain't easy, we must break down your walls
But we must break
Love has to fear, please take down your walls
I'll be right here, please break down your walls
You don't prove you're tough by shutting me out
You ain't living alone
But that's the way you carry it
Its dead, so you just bury it
It still hurts, we don't work
And here I am just bearing it all
My, my, my, my, my, my, my
Why, why, why, why wont you
Let me do what a lovers supposed too do
Does it even matter to you that
My heart beats every beat for you
I hurt when you're hurt
I'm blue when you're blue
And I'm fighting but even the greatest of walls

My love is strong
But its weary from the climb
Why can't you help me
Can't you help me please break down your walls
Can you please
Cause I'm holding on
But my spirit gets weary
Oh, I know what it is
It ain't easy, we must break down your walls
But we must break
Love has to fear, please take down your walls
I'll be right here, please break down your walls
