La dada di, la dada di, whoa, la dada di
La dada di, la dada di, whoa, la dada di

Ten thirty something and in last night,
There was something that just didn't feel right
Decided I'd stay home instead of go and see my baby
Cause lately all we do is fight
Couldn't sleep so I went to turn the TV on,
Caught the last of the late night news Homicide with the sign of the city, and his name was one of the two

So now I'm like, no, there's no way
They must have gotten it all wrong
He wouldn't have left me this way, there's so much we didn't say
He didn't even say goodbye
So how dare they try to tell me he's gone
It couldn't have been that easy
Don't let them take him away, we didn't even say goodbye

La dada di, la dada di, whoa, la dada di
La dada di, la dada di, whoa, la dada di

I keep calling his phone wishing he would pick it up
Hoping it was all a dream
Yellow tape holds the neighborhood back as I'm pulling up downhill street
Guess I'm thinking about the last conversation we had
And the mean things that we've said
Wishing I could take the whole thing back
As I'm standing at his doorstep, covered in red

No, there's no way
They must have gotten it all wrong
He wouldn't have left me this way, there's so much we
didn't say
He didn't even say goodbye
So how dare they try to tell me he's gone
It couldn't have been that easy
Don't let them take him away, we didn't even say

La dada di, la dada di, whoa, la dada di
La dada di, la dada di, whoa, la dada di

[Snoop Dogg:]

All I want is you with me, all I wanna do is be More than your friend, more like your man, would you agree?
You cooking for me, hugging, loving me now
Rubbing me down, baby boo yeah you in love with me now
And it's a apparent cause we share an apartment
You always argue Melanie, you love to start sh*t
We make love on the kitchen floor to the carpet
I got somewhere to be but I don't wanna get off this I'll hit you later on, when I'll get to my office
Your kisses are sweet, maybe we're soul fits
Cha-cha-cha, jump in my car, feeling just like a star
Trying to get to where I need be, pushing it hard
In and out of traffic, going faster and faster
Not using my blinkers instead I'm using my flashers
I was going too fast, didn't think it would end
Now my baby girl would never ever see me again
I got shot in the street, and I don't know why
Left mad at my boo and I ain't even say bye
They say life's a chance and we all gonna die
So enjoy every minute as the time goes by
