I need somebody who cares I need somebody who cares I only want someone to pay attention to me and maybe introduce me to life's mystery I'm standing her looking for somebody who cares who cares who cares I lost my puppy who cares I need some money who cares I need someone I can tell about the trouble I'm in who won't laugh or pretend to play the violin I know you're gonna do that violin thing again who cares who cares who cares who cares who cares they say that love is a wonderful thing they say it will find a way they say I'm ok you're ok they think they know everything everything everything one thing they know they really know how to ruin my day if she is somewhere who cares tell her I'll be there who cares I wonder if there's any hope left in this world or if anybody cares for anything anymore that's what I'm so frustrated for who cares who cares who cares.
