I sing this song from the sky
No matter if it's heaven or hell
I know I love that girl
But it wouldn't work that well
I'd be sitting there all alone
Counting day after day
I knew she wouldn't come home
It was just that way

'Cos long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance
Long distance
Long distance

That night I woke with a dream
And I knew it was the end
You didn't let me cry baby
Or even let me bend
And I know
And I know
And I know

'Cos long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance
Long distance
Long distance

I didn't want to let you go
But baby it was wrong and right
I didn't want to make you cry
Or maybe mess up your life
Woo
I just wanted to hold you in my arms
And tell you it's all right
But I knew there'd be no chance

'Cos long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance relationships will kill you

Long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance
Long distance
Long distance

Long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance relationships will kill you
Long distance relationships will kill you
(Long distance relationships)
Long distance
Long distance
Long distance

Long distance relationships will kill you
