Save the night
If I could find the feeling
I could save the light
That lit our nights before
Before we knew the reason
Saving nights were for

Save the light
The light that made us sure
We'd never find that light
At any other door

Overdone
I'm sure the song I'm singing
Has been sung
But I'm gonna sing it again
Save the past
Cause the future's a question

On your own
Remember, when you are alone
It's great
This feeling of being secure
But I always thought there'd be more
But I always thought there'd be more

To save the life
While you were playing husband
I will play the wife
But sometimes I'll slip away
I'll pretend that it all can go
Another way
Sometimes I'll slip away
I'll pretend life
And dream that I can save the day

Save the night..
