Turn off the lights and watch it all melt down Napoleon slow to the bottom of this town taste your mouth and touch your knees blinking lights in electric trees but if you're gonna play that part I'm gonna start back at the start turn off your eyes and watch it all run down tundra coils in the bottom of this town

I never knew, I never knew, I never knew how much I needed you all these people died in the same way and all these buildings are built the same way we can't trust each other progress our only lover these streets have no cover hey brother, where have you been turn off the sky and watch it all melt down Napoleon slow to the bottom of this town closed your moth and cut your knees hung us up in electric trees but if you're gonna play that part

I never knew, I never knew, I never knew how much I needed you
