Oh why am I cared for
These things run too deep for comfort
And she waits there
I wish she would just disappear

You stalked me in my sleep again

Rendered silent by that lulling gaze
I know the words I can't stand to say
I hate it when I lose my respect
Look at me and how I fell for this

She walked inside my head again
Stalked me in my sleep again
I can't even be your friend again
Closure's never gonna come again

For it how I would drown for days
For it how I would heavily pay
For it how I was such a slave
And now I just don't give a fuck

She walked right past me today
Said she's leaving for far away
Now I just don't want to hear you stay
Alleviate the things I can't sustain
She used to stalk me in my dreams
I wanted her she cared for me
But then the senses healed
And I could breathe

Don't really need you around
I've awoke
