

Mêlée "Bells"

Visit "Bells" on MotoLyrics.com

I see the rise of the light in the sky
Comforting us, though we're all going to die.

I hear the bells
They're ringing for me.
Is there not a way to avoid them?
Time marches on
Until the battery fades.
But what are you doing before hand?

Get up don't stall now.
The plane isn't going to stay.
Get up don't fall now.
It's taking you away from here.
Where the air holds nothing to fear.
And I see the light.
Because we're all going to die.

I want to help you all realize
The hope and the joy that has found me.
Live in the dark,
But dwell in the light.
And dying will never afford you.
