What did you do, girl?
You made a mess of it
That part is understood
But when line blurs
And where the plot thickens
Who's in your room last night?

And when the light's off
you're here
Another whisper
in your ear

When I get back
You better find yourself a new heart
When I get back
You better find yourself a friend
When I get back
You better find yourself a new heart
A new heart
I'm tearing out the old one

I turned the page, girl
There's just no end to it
Attention fuels your fire
? from the fake ones
And toss some darkness in
So put a look I like

And when the light's off,
you're here
Another whisper in your ear

When I get back
You better find yourself a new heart
When I get back
You better find yourself a friend
When I get back
You better find yourself a new heart
A new heart
I'm tearing out the old one

When I get back
You better find yourself a new heart
When I get back
You better hide your scarlet dress
When I get back
You better find yourself a new heart
A new heart

When I get back
You better find yourself a new heart
When I get back
You better find yourself a friend
When I get back
You better find yourself a new heart
A new heart

When I get back
Yeah, when I get back
Whoa, when I get back
