Talk about frustration
every day it's killing me.

Stranger

you're a stranger

too

danger lies misleading you.

Shout it from the highest hill the stranger looked me through and then I knew.

You are the stranger in the dark and I love the way you are when you talk I see every move.

Out in the streets I don't know if it rains or if it snows

You just go on go on doing what you do.

Such a situation that it should ever come to this danger is what I never see strangers would never come to me.

Shout it from the highest hill the stranger looked me through and then I knew it was you.

You are the stranger in the dark

...

You are the stranger

the stranger

the stranger. -
