Executive executioner is here to stay How many innocents will he slay He can't wait to watch them die He loves their screams as they fry vengeance equals justice and violence makes the world go round it became clear when i saw the light two wrongs have always made a right fuck the death penalty i see from my bloody teevee that all heroes do agree every day is violent strife and murder is a fact of life so what if it won't deter crime so what if it won't save a dime so other countries call us sadists head up my ass don't have to face this
