Do those blue jeans make you look fat?
Your hair and make-up are not all that?
Are your teeth as white as can be?
Isn't there someone you'd rather be?

Be yourself everybody else is taken
And no one else can do the things you do
Let your heart write the music that you're making
You be you everybody else is taken

Expensive hobbies diamonds and gold
Brand new bodies that never grow old
Bigger houses bigger cars
They are the Joneses you're who you are

Be yourself everybody else is taken
And no one else can do the things you do
Let your heart write the music that you're making
You be you everybody else is taken

You want to fly like the birds
Take your life story and change the words
For something greener on the other side
But hey there's something you haven't tried

Be yourself everybody else is taken
And no one else can do the things you do
Let your heart write the music that you're making
You be you everybody else is taken
