The wait, the world is on your mind
What gets left gets left to die
If I asked you to fall behind
To find a better time

The wait it burns like holding matches
Who gets left gets burned
The same is true for those with answer
So stand up and take the light
Shine your eyes on hiding eyelids
I can't escape your world
A torch that fades could never find this
A better time for all

The wait, the world is on your mind
If I asked you to fall behind
To find a better time

Too scared to fade, scared of answers
Things best left inside
I never felt the way that I should
Any other time

The wait, the world is on your mind
If I asked you to fall behind
To find a better time

Too scared to fade
Fade and fall behind
Too scared to fade, scared of answers
Things best left to any other time

The wait, the world is on your mind
If I asked you to fall behind
To find a better time
