As he looked into her eyes
And he lost his breathe
And his heart stopped beating
Inside of his chest
And he realized just who he was
And what he wanted

Baby, please, won't you tell me everything?
I just have to know, I just have to know you

She fell asleep on the car ride home
She was just 17 with no where to go
And she didn't know who she was
Or what she wanted

Baby, please, won't you tell me everything?
I just have to know, I just have to know you.

I could show you everything [x4]
Yeahhh

So, c'mon baby please, won't you tell me everything?
I just have to know, I just have to know you.
