Break my heart a thousand times
Should have treated me better all this time
As i let you go and say good-bye i'm running faster into the night

Break my heart a thousand times
Break your heart a thousand ways
For every tear of mine gonna make you pay

Break my heart a thousand times
But the time is gone now
Should have took the time

Break your heart a thousand ways
Should have known better than to love the pain
I've let you go
I've said good-bye
Nothing you say can give back the wasted time

Break my heart a thousand times
Break your heart a thousand ways
Break my heart a thousand times
Break your heart a thousand ways

Could have treated me better
Could have treated me better
Could have treated me better
Could have treated me better

Break my heart a thousand times
Should have treated me better all this time
As i let you go and say good-bye i'm running faster into
the night

Break my heart a thousand times
Break your heart a thousand ways
For every tear of mine gonna make you pay
Break my heart a thousand times
Break my heart a thousand times
Break your heart a thousand ways
Break my heart a thousand times

Break your heart a thousand ways
For every tear of mine gonna make you pay
