And the rest is history
So the next best thing from crying
Is to be faithful and in love

If the rest is history
Then the next best thing from crying
Is to be faithful or unhappy

Do you like all the silence
It burns me alive
And the dust from you leaving me stinging my eyes
But i like all the distance it makes me so cold

And i need you to be faithfully in love with me always
And i don't keep track of time cause the time we lost was heaven
And i meant that now we can't get it back
And i won't be back again cause i've already decided i have to let you go
Hearts already broken

Do you like all the silence
It burns me alive and the dust from you leaving me
stinging my eyes
But i like all the distance it makes me so cold
Play it off in your mind till it's old

And i need you to be faithfully in love with me always
And i need you to be faithfully in love with me always
And i need you to be faithfully in love with me always

Do you like all the silence
It burns me alive and the dust from you leaving me
stinging my eyes
But i like all the distance it makes me so cold
Play it off in your mind till it's old

Do you like all the silence
It burns me alive and the dust from you leaving me
stinging my eyes
But i like all the distance it makes me so cold

Play it off in your mind till it's old

And i need you to be faithfully in love with me always
And i need you to be faithfully in love with me always
And i need you to be faithfully in love with me always
And i need you to be faithfully in love with me always
