"I Run"

Take the memories, the tears
Find what's precious most of all and leave it here
Good-bye to your love and all it brings
No use at all for material things
I'm not sorry don't you know
When I feel like running I'll run anywhere I know
Always look around you twice to find somewhere to go
You won't see it coming you hold on there will be a day
Wait until you turn your back and then I'll run away
I run
I found your letters, I never read
I've burned them all and I hope that you see
I have some pictures
I'll burn them too
No use at all for memories of you
I'm not sorry don't you know
When I feel like running I'll run anywhere I know
Always look around you twice to find somewhere to go
You won't see it coming you hold on there will be a day
Wait until you turn your back and then I'll run away
I run
When I feel like running I'll run anywhere I know
Always look around you twice to find somewhere to go
You won't see it coming you hold on there will be a day
Wait until you turn your back and then I'll run away
I run
I know
Find some where
