Walk tall, walk straight, and look the world right in the eye
That's what my momma told me when I was about knee
high Said "Son now be a proud man, and hold your head up
high
Walk tall, walk straight, and look the world right in the
eye,"

When I was young boy ...
But I was young and foolish then, and much too blind to see
I ignored the things she said as if I never heard Now I see and understand the meaning of her words

Walk tall, walk straight, and look the world right in the
eye
That's what my momma told me when I was about knee
high
Said "Son now be a proud man, and hold your head up
high
Walk tall, walk straight, and look the world right in the
eye,"

Started going to places, where youngsters shouldn't go Got to know the kind of girls it's better not to know Fell in with a bad crowd and laughed and drank with them
And through the laughter mama's words would echo now and then '

Walk tall, walk straight, and look the world right in the
eye
It's what my momma told me when I was about knee
high
Said "Son now be a proud man, and hold your head up
high
Walk tall, walk straight, and look the world right in the
eye,"

Got in trouble with the law, and I'm in prison now Through these prison bars I see things so much different now

I got one year left to serve, and when my time is done I'll walk tall and I'll walk straight, and mama'll be proud to call me son.

Walk tall, walk straight, and look the world right in the
eye

That's what my momma told me when I was about knee
high

Said "Son now be a proud man, and hold your head up
high

Walk tall, walk straight, and look the world right in the
eye,"

Walk tall, walk tall
