The sun goes down The sky turns black I can hardly wait for you I can't believe the madness In everything you do I used to dream in black and white Now I see the world in a different light Your love colours, colours everything Your love colours, colours everything Your love colours, colours everything Your love colours, colours everything Oh oh Now come in to me Fill me and fill me Show me your colours baby Your love colours I slept in fear And woke in pain Till you came in close to me I was cold Like frozen rain Your kiss melted me You speak your mind just like a child Won't be defined by when you smile Your love colours, colours everything Your love colours, colours everything Your
love colours, colours everything Your love colours, colours everything Oh oh Now come in to me Fill me
and fill me Show me your colours baby Your love colours Your love colours everything Your love colours everything Your love colours everything Your love colours everything
