Yeah I thought this was it,
True love had arrived
So I fell in
Oh, what a surprise
And I bought you a ring
And I asked you to wear it
So when I found it on the bathroom sink
I should have known I was in for it

But how do I release this
And how do I let you go
How do I mend my heart
When I feel so low
And how do I talk to you without crying
How do I let you go
When I still love you
I still love you
Yeah I still love you

So I don't know if I can be just your friend
Damn you for not trying
And fuck you for standing there smiling
Yeah but I know what it's like
To not be able to feel
And I know what it's like
Yeah to just kiss someone and make them fall in love with you
And then you walk away
To just make somebody come a little closer
So you can push them away

But how do I release this
And how do I let you go
How do I mend my heart
When I feel so low
And how do I talk to you without crying
How do I let you go
When I still love you
I still love you
Yeah I still love you

I still love you
