Well you know that I am afraid to be alone
And you know in my heart
I love you so
But I need to understand why love has so many demands
And why our heads can't work it out
And why our mouths can't shout
Just let me go, let me go, let me go

Cuz I try hard to get through my stuff
Yeah I try hard to play tough
And I please everybody yeah I never let anybody down
Down to my feet I am lonely
Lonely for myself to come clean
To figger out my head and what's in between
So feel this pull of the strings attached
And feel this friendship fall
And feel my fist smash down the wall
And let me go, let me go, let me go, let me go

Cuz when I stutter I am real really searching for words
With my shakin hands touchin my face
Cuz I'm hurting myself to take
Well I'm hurting myself to take the feeling's place
And let me go, let me go, let me go
So feel this pull of the strings attached
And feel this friendship fall
And feel my fist smash down the wall
Down with my walls
Down with my walls
