We're falling apart but the decent is slow
And we failed to see that we've lost all hope Tonight this feels like drowning and we can't catch our breath
So give this up just give this up walk away when this is said.
When this is over it will be forever when this is said our time is through Now will you remember this tired heart when this is said we've fallen apart.
We are. safe out in the day light for everyone to see
But the sun doesn't shine in the middle of the night
And the darkness in your heart isn't able to disguise the hate burning inside
Hope now lost just don't look back when this is said.
When this over it will be forever when this said our time is through
Will you remember this tired heart when this is said we've fallen apart.
When this is over. just give this up and walk away.
