

The Reason

"Run"

Visit "Run" on MotoLyrics.com

If I was solid as a rock
Then I would roll for days, you know
And I could disappear
Faster than a spring time snow
Don't you hear the rocks beneath my feet?
They sing to me
To run

I feel the fire in my lungs
Is burning my insides to death
And now the runner I've become
Is holding on for one last breath
But as the sun sets I pick up my speed
And into the mountains on broken knees
I go

And I'm running home
Just as fast as my legs can go
I can't be along anymore

Don't you hear the rocks beneath my feet?
They sing
I need to run
