

The Reason

"Sleepyhead"

It takes a lifetime
And the year has taken forever
But it feels just fine
And things couldn't be better
I saved it up
With a drunken face, I'm with delight
That's me, all up in space
Waking up in another place
Where I hit the lights and I fall asleep for days
When you fall, you know
It only hurts if you let it
And I didn't let it
And in the end I'll drink myself to sleep
It's just the beginning
This is just the beginning
My chemicals and me are going places
My chemicals and me, they sing songs
They sing me to sleep
My bed says reason needs a rest
Reason needs a rest
Roll credits, 'cause this is a mattress
Don't you ever forget it
I'm thinking that time has come to sleep
This reason needs a rest!
