The trees outside are bare and they're dyin'
The leaves are on the ground and turning brown and drying
Do you think they talk to one another?
If they do, they're better off than you and I and our love

I saw this coming fifteen miles away
Did you just see it today?
I thought I'd wait to hear what you would say
Do you have something for me, for me?

Give me one last dance
And I'll go home
If you don't love me anymore
Give me one last dance
And I'll go home
If you don't love me anymore

The clouds above my house are cold and they're leavin'
It seems I cannot touch them anymore
Farewell on this cold grey frozen January evening
Have a smoke to wash the taste of soap out from my vulgar mouth

I saw this coming fifteen miles away
Did you just see it today?
I thought I'd wait to hear what you would say
Do you have something for me, for me?

Give me one last dance
And I'll go home
If you don't love me anymore
Give me one last dance
And I'll go home
If you don't love me anymore

I saw this coming fifteen miles away
Did you just see it today?
I thought I'd wait to hear what you would say
Do you have something for me, for me?

Give me one last dance
And I'll go home
If you don't love me anymore
Give me one last dance
And I'll go home
If you don't love me anymore
