I sit around and think about all the times we shared

All the time

I wonder what you dream about

Where you go and have been

All the time

You broke my heart

You broke my heart again

And now I know

If this is a test

I'm gonna fail it my best

The only way to stay true

And this is my destiny and there is no helping me

Life is bittersweet

Things change although they seem the same and there'll be no more waiting for your lies

I found someone else just like you and now it's starting to unwind

All the time

We fell apart

You broke my heart again

And now I know

If this a test

I'm gonna fail it my best

The only way to stay true.

And this is my destiny and there is no helping me

Life is bittersweet

You say it's time to get over the pain

I still

I still love her

You say it's time to get over the pain

I still

I still love her

I still love her

If this is a test
I'm gonna fail it my best
The only way to stay true
And this is my destiny and there is no helping me
Life is bittersweet.

You say it's time to get over the pain
I still
I still love her
You say it's time to get over the pain
I still
I still love her
I still love her
