It's me again, pick up the phone. I hope that you're at home. I need a friend so don't pretend, cause you're the one I'm calling for. Ill try again if I can, but I am moving on. There's nothing left for me here, to life for. So I have just one last request, please remember me at my best.

[chorus]: remember me at my best. When we all kneel down to rest, I wonder if I will be repeated. Remember me at my best.

Don't blame yourself when you find out. You know it's not your fault. I've had this problem for some time now. It's something that went wrong. Inside my head, you are my friend. So let us make a meant. And set me up right, cause I won't make it through this night. And I have just one last request, please remember me at my best.

Remember me at my best, when we all kneel down to rest, I wonder if I will be repeated. Remember me at my best.

(Josh guitar solo)

Don't try so hard (x3)

Don't try so hard to be happy! The best things in life are free and no matter what you do you will never be redeemed, by self beliefs. So, don't sweat it, just forget it, and remember no one in this world gets out alive. We justify. We justify.

Remember you still have friends, an we will be with you until the end.

Every body gets their heart broken, get off your knees and try again. (X3)
